14th Annual International Student Concert & Webcast

William R. and Irene D. Miller Recital Hall
I heard Mendelssohn’s Piano Trio No. 1 in D Minor for the first time in a concert at a music course when I was about 12 years old. The graceful, lyrical melodies; the interaction between the strings and the piano; and the virtuosity and welling emotion of the piano part captured me from the very beginning. The first movement is a heroic one in one of Mendelssohn’s most popular works for chamber ensemble. On hearing this composition, Robert Schumann wrote, “Mendelssohn is the Mozart of the 19th century.”

—Gabriela Fahnenstiel

A composer and guitarist from Ecuador, Bonilla Chávez is considered one of the pioneers of classical guitar in that country. Cantares del Alma, which translates as “Chants of the Soul,” is composed with a pasillo rhythm, a traditional rhythm from Ecuador that developed from the European waltz after colonization. In its original form, the instrumentation is not specified and there are lyrics to the song. This evening’s arrangement is by Carlos Garcia from Ecuador.

One of the leading composers from Ecuador, Gerardo Guevara studied composition in Paris with Nadia Boulanger. His compositional style and variety of genres have influenced most of the modern composers in his country. Despedida is a song originally written for piano and voice. Like Cantares del Alma, it is written in the form of a pasillo.

–David Vazquez

Despedida
Adios amor, adios querida
Te dejo esta canción de amor
Y en ella mi vida.

Mis ojos llorarán a tus negros ojos,
Mis labios sufrirán
la ausencia de tus besos.

Y seguiré viviendo, y viviré soñando,
Y soñaré en el beso
Que vuelva a encontrarnos.

Adios amor te llevaré
En mi alma prendida.
Te dejo esta canción de amor
Y en ella mi vida.

Farewell
Farewell my love, farewell my dear
I leave you this song of love
And with it my life.

My eyes will weep for your black eyes,
My lips will suffer
From the absence of your kisses.

And I will keep on living, and will live dreaming,
And I will dream of the kiss
That will reunite us.

Farewell, my love, I will take you
in my glowing soul.
I leave you this song of love
And with it my life.

ZHU LIANGZHEN
The Serenade of Yearning Lovers
Taicheng Li, tenor (China)
Luyang Liu, piano (China)

Published in China in 2013, this work is representative of Mr. Zhu’s style. It depicts the love between two lovers and their sadness at being far from each other. The lyrics express these emotions clearly and directly so that the listeners feel the sadness.

–Taicheng Li

白桦绿棕，天各一方。
啊……啊……
我的知音，我的姑娘。
当你看见——那黎明的星空，
那是我注视着你——温柔的目光，
当你看见——那满天的落霞，
那是映山红盛开在——
我那甜蜜的梦乡……
你山中，我在海上，
金雀银鸥，心驰神往。
啊……啊……
我的知音，我的姑娘。
当你看见——那大海的波涛，
那是我寂寞的心——在为你歌唱，
当你看见——那飘来的流云，
那是我挚热的爱——
在向你飞翔，向你飞翔…….
啊 姑娘，我的姑娘……
啊 姑娘，我的姑娘……
当你看见那飘来的流云，
那是我挚热的爱在向你飞——翔
This piece is a transcription of a popular Chinese folk song that comes from a traditional Chinese drama—Huaguxi. Everybody in China would immediately recognize the melody. The folk song praises the beauty of the Liuyang River, which brings local people water and food. The transcription we hear this evening highlights the main melody, using a different accompaniment each time it appears.

BENNY ANDERSSON

Lyrics by
BJÖRN ULVAEUS

Kristina från Duvemåla (Kristina from Duvemåla) is a Swedish musical written by former ABBA members Björn Ulvaeus (lyrics) and Benny Andersson (music). It’s based on a series of four novels by Swedish author Vilhelm Moberg detailing a family’s poverty-driven migration from Sweden to America in the mid-19th century: The Emigrants, Unto a Good Land, The Settlers, and The Last Letter Home. “Du Måste Finnas” (“You Have To Be There”) describes Kristina’s doubt about God and her path in life following a miscarriage.

—Helena Hallberg

Du Måste Finnas
You drove me out, God,
from my homeland torn away.
Here I’m a refugee and a stranger and I do accept that as my fate

But You took my child
And You take me from my man.
I can no longer see any meaning.
What is it You want?
What should I think?
The thought is dizzying,
before me opens an abyss,
my whole being is in uproar and wants to say no,
my soul shivers
at the answer to the question I’ve raised;
that You do not exist
though I believed in You.

Who’d help me endure life all the way out here?
Who’d give me the skills and the strength I must show?
Who would comfort me? I am so little on the earth,
If You did not exist,
yes, how would I cope?

No, You must exist,
You have to!
I live my life through You.
Without You I am a splinter on a dark and stormy sea.
You must exist,
You have to!
How could You just overlook me?
I would be nowhere,
I would be nothing if You did not exist.

Never before has that been on my tongue or in my mind, that little word which is frightening and plaguing me so;
the word is “if,” if I have said all of my prayers in vain?
If You do not exist,
what will I do?

Who would feel my repentance and then just forgive me?
Freedom in my soul, yes, who would give that to me?
Who’d be there at the end to accept me, after my death?
If You did not exist
who would take my hand then?

No, You must exist,
You have to!
I live my life through You.
Without You I am a splinter on a dark and stormy sea.
You must exist,
You have to!
Flower of Magherally

One pleasant summer’s morning when all the flowers were springing O
Nature was adorning and the wee birds sweetly singing O
I met my love near Banbridge Town, my charming blue-eyed Sally O
She’s the queen of the County Down, the flower of Magherally O.

With admiration I did gaze upon this blue-eyed maiden O
Adam wasn’t half as pleased when he met Eve in Eden O
Her skin was like the lily white that grows in yonder valley O
She’s my queen and my heart’s delight, the flower of Magherally O.

Her golden hair in ringlets hung, her shoes were Spanish leather O
Her bonnet with blue ribbons strung, her scarlet cap and feather O
Like Venus bright she did appear, my charming blue-eyed Sally O
She’s the girl that I love dear, the flower of Magherally O.

Flower of Magherally is a song from County Down, Northern Ireland. The composer is unknown but the song seems to recount a love affair across a divide, most likely between a Roman Catholic and a Protestant.

Shame on You, Shame on Me, by Pete Churchill, is a song for the refugee, the wanderer, and the outcast, written for his large-scale work The Journey.

ABOUT THE DISTANCE LEARNING PROGRAM

In 1996, under the pioneering influence of Maestro Pinchas Zukerman and President Marta Istomin, Manhattan School of Music instituted a groundbreaking distance learning program—the first of its kind at a major conservatory—devoted to exploring the use of state-of-the-art videoconference technology for music education and performance. MSM has since become a proud leader in the field, recognizing the vast potential for the creative use of broadband videoconferencing and its related instructional technologies in the arts as a whole. Led by Christianne Orto, Dean of Distance Learning and Recording Arts, the program provides access to artistic and academic resources that enhance students’ education in musical performance while heightening the global community’s awareness of and participation in the musical arts.

The program has become a leading provider of distance learning content for higher education, K–12 schools, and community organizations, including master classes and coachings, clinics, lessons, audition preparation, professional development, and academic seminars. Teaching and learning partnerships have been established with students, educators, and distinguished artists in 46 states and 31 countries, including Australia, China, and Europe, reaching an average of 7,500 students each year.

MSM presented its first webcast in 2003, featuring Pinchas Zukerman conducting a student chamber orchestra in Elgar’s String Serenade. In 2004, the School inaugurated live web streaming of student concerts from the William R. and Irene D. Miller Recital Hall. In 2007, MSM hosted Manhattan Connects: An Internet2 Conference for New York’s Cultural Institutions in collaboration with Internet2, Columbia University, and Nysernet, which celebrated the potential of advanced broadband networking for the arts.

In the first live video stream of a classical music event to an iPhone/iPod touch application, the Distance Learning Program partnered with InstantEncore in 2010 to present a master class with renowned baritone Thomas Hampson. In 2011, MSM created an online digital library to give viewers access to the Program’s extensive video archive of past classes and events. In 2012, the Virtual Music Studio pilot program was launched to reach home-based learners via desktop videoconferencing for music. And in 2013, the Program created a special distance learning collaboration with schools throughout Nebraska, in which students received credit for weekly applied music instruction from Manhattan School of Music. In 2013–14, over 800 music lessons to Nebraska were delivered.

Most recently, MSM Distance Learning is pleased to announce the creation of an endowed fund, the Melos Fund for Distance Learning Innovation at Manhattan School of Music, established to support, cultivate, and expand leading-edge music distance learning initiatives and programs at the School.
